

Contents

6 Preface

8 The History of Visual Merchandising

18 The Role of a Visual Merchandiser

21 The day-to-day role of a visual merchandiser

22 Training

23 Visual merchandising in a department store

26 Visual merchandising of multiple chain stores

28 Visual merchandising of small retail outlets

29 Measuring success

30 Store Design

32 What is store design?

33 Why is store design important?

34 Who designs the store?

37 Pop-up shops

40 How does store design work?

42 Store study:
Kurt Geiger

46 Windows

50 Getting to know your windows

56 Planning a window display

60 Themes and schemes

67 Budgeting

68 Props

74 Designing a window display

80 Store study:
Au Printemps

84 Colour

90 Window prepping

92 Installing the window display

96 Store study:
Louis Vuitton

98 Lighting

100 Signage and graphics

106 Window calendar

110 Window standards and maintenance, and budget

112 Store study:
Fortnum & Mason

116 In-store Visual Merchandising

120 Product adjacencies

122 Floor layouts

130 Store study:
Matthew Williamson

134 Fixtures and fittings

146 Wall fixtures

150 Product handling

156 Store study:
Flight 001

162 In-store displays and hot shops

166 Point of sale and add-on sales

168 Clearance merchandise

169 Signage and ticketing

170 Case study:
Colorset

179 Lighting

180 Case study:
ERCO lighting

184 Ambience

186 Technology

190 Retail standards and maintenance, and budget

191 Virtual visual merchandising

194 Store study:
Topshop

198 Mannequins

202 Sculpting

204 Purchasing mannequins

206 Dressing a mannequin

211 Securing a mannequin

212 Grouping mannequins

213 Maintenance

214 The Visual Merchandiser's Studio

217 The visual merchandiser's toolbox

218 Health and safety

219 Lighting chart

220 Glossary

221 Further reading

222 Index

224 Picture credits and acknowledgements